

TELEPHONE SERVICE:
 160 BOOTS AND SHOES, Trunks, CLOTHING and Furnishings
 161 DRY GOODS, Smallwares, Fancy Goods and Novelties
 162 READY-TO-WEAR, Corsets, MILLINERY, Furs.
 163 HARDWARE, Auto Supplies
 164 TINSHOP, Heating, Plumbing.
 165 GROCERIES, Flour and Feed.
 166 OFFICE, General Enquiry.

JANUARY CLEARANCE SALES

STAPLES SECTION OFFERS MANY BIG SAVINGS

"HORROCKSES" STRIPED FLANNELETTE

January Sales Price, 65c

Get your needs of this splendid make of Flannelette—nothing to equal it for wearing and washing—in nice striped patterns and assorted colors; 36 inches wide January Sales Price, 65c

KIMONA VELOURS

Regular 95c January Sales Price, 69c

Lovely velour cloth suitable for kimono, dressing gowns, in floral designs. Colors, pinks, blues, etc.; 27 inches wide. Regular 95c January Sales Price, 69c

ENGLISH "VIYELLA" FLANNEL

A big opportunity to purchase your spring and summer requirements of this well known flannel—suitable for dresses, blouses, skirts, etc.; in neat stripe and plaids.

Regular $2.00 January Sales Price, $1.50
 Regular $2.25 January Sales Price, $1.69
 Regular $2.75 January Sales Price, $1.98

FEATHER PILLOWS

Regular $2.50 January Sales Price $1.95 Each
 Extra quality Pillows, filled with selected feathers, thoroughly cleaned; size 20x26 January Sales Price, $1.95 Each

STRIPED OUTING FLANNELETES.

Regular 65c January Sales Price, 38c

A splendid flannelette for shirts underwear, etc.; a nice assortment of stripes on a white ground; 32 inches wide. Regular 65c January Sales Price, 38c

WOOL EIDERDOWN

Regular $3.50 January Sales Price, $2.69

Lovely, soft, fleecy, Wool Eiderdown, suitable for dressing gowns, etc.; 54 inches wide; colors plain grey, cardinal. January Sales Price, $2.69

FLANNELETES

Regular 60c and 65c January Sales Price, 49c

Suitable for house dresses, children's wear, etc., in dark patterns, Good width January Sales Price, 49c

BED SHEETING Regular 95c January Sales Price 69c

A real good value in this sheeting in 72 inches wide; nice firm weave; fine white bleach. January Sales Price, 69c

KHAKI SHIRTING; DRILL

Regular 60c January Sales Price 40c

Take advantage of this splendid value; very suitable for boys' knickers, shirts, overalls, etc.; 30 inches wide. January Sales Price, 40c

SPLENDID QUALITY SHIRTING. January Sales Price, 40c

These shirtings are much below the prices for spring, and you will be well advised to get your spring and summer needs right now; in plain grey and in blue with white stripe, also black with white stripe. January Sales Price, 40c

CANTON FLANNEL—January Sales Price 35c

Splendid value in Cotton Flannel, nice firm twill finish one side with soft fleecy back. Suitable for children's wear and for lining, etc., in bleached and unbleached. January Sales Price, 35c

BLACK KNITTING YARN - January Sales Price, 98c lb.

Suitable for knitting: boys and men's heavy mitts, socks, etc. January Sales Price, 98c per lb.

EMBROIDERY COTTON - January Sales Price, 10c Ball

Colors white, ecru, orange, brown, yellow Each 10c

January Clearance Children's Hats

Regular $2.95 to $3.50 at 98¢ each

Smart hats of Velour, Velvet and Felt, sold regularly at $2.95 to $3.50. Clearing at 98¢ each

Men's Furnishings at Big Savings

ODDMENTS IN MEN'S SHIRTS AND DRAWERS Reg. to $4.50 values. Jan'y Sale Price, $1.98 Garment

"Stanfield's," Penman's and other well-known makes included in this lot. Mostly all sizes are represented. January Sales Price, $1.98

MEN'S WINTER CAPS

Regular to $3.75 January Sales Price, $1.95

MEN'S SWEATERS

Regular $16.50 January Sales Price, $12.95

MEN'S SWEATERS, $18.00 and $20.00

January Sale Price, $14.95

MEN'S BLACK AUTO GAUNTLET GLOVES and MITTS

Regular $5.50 January Sales Price, $3.98

MEN'S FLANNELETTE NIGHTGOWNS

Regular $3.50 January Sales Price, $2.45

A splendid value in men's nightgowns, made from nice quality flannelette; nice range of patterns. Sizes 14½ to 18. January Sales Price $2.45

MEN'S "G.W.G." and "SNAG PROOF" OVERALLS

January Sales Price, $2.45

Take advantage of this special January Sales Bargain and buy your summer needs in these well known makes; plain blue and black and in blue with white stripe. All sizes. January Sales Price, $2.45

BOYS' BLACK BIB OVERALLS

Made from heavy black denim, strongly sewed, and will give extra good wear.

January Sales Prices, $1.25, $1.65, $1.95

BOYS' BLUE STRIPED BIB OVERALS

Sizes 11 to 15. January Sales Price, $1.45

BOYS' FLEECE LINED COMBINATIONS

January Sales Price, $1.45

BOYS' HEAVY WOOL SHIRTS AND DRAWERS

Reg. $3.50 Suits January Sales Price, $2.50

BOYS' WOOL PULLOVER SWEATERS

January Sales Price, $1.75 each

A good serviceable sweater for boys aged 4 to 12. Colors navy, cardinal and brown.

January Sales Price, $1.75 each

Men's Sheep-lined Leather Coats

Regular $27.50, January Sale Price $19.75

A very serviceable warm coat, made of nice quality soft tanned leather in brown color, lined with sheepskin, large sheep collar.

January Sale price $19.75

Men's Leather Coat

Regular $22.50, January Sale Price $16.95

A warm serviceable coat of soft tanned leather, in brown shade, with wool lining and large sheepskin collar; this coat is extra good length, and has belt of same material.

January Sale price $16.95

Men's Fur Coats

January Sale Price 47.50

A real bargain, and men needing a warm, serviceable coat for the colder days will surely invest in one of these coats. Made from well tanned skin, soft and pliable, lined with best quality quilted lining, strongly reinforced with leather, warm shields and vent, and fastened with loops and barrel buttons; color Black or Brown, large roomy sizes.

January Sale Price $47.50

January Clearance Sale

Men's Suits and Overcoats

Men! You should not miss this splendid opportunity to secure a smart up-to-the-minute Suit or Overcoat at less than cost. Our entire stock of suits is here for you to select from, and assures you a saving of $5 to $15 less than you will have to pay later on in the season. Come early and make your selection while sizes and styles are complete.

Men's Suits, Regular $34.00, January Sale price $19.50

Men's Suits, Regular $44.00, January Sale price $29.50

Men's Suits, Regular $65.00, January Sale price $39.50

Men's Overcoats, Regular to $34.00, January Sale price $19.50

Men's Overcoats, Regular to $44.00, January Sale price $29.50

Men's Overcoats, Regular to $65.00, January Sale price $39.50

LADY'S BLACK ASTRACHAN FUR COAT

Regular $65.00 - - - January Sales Price, $29.75

For the women wearing size 36 this is a splendid bargain, made from softly tanned black Astrachan Fur; ¾ length; large deep collar. A splendid coat for driving, and one that will give excellent service. Size 36 only. January Sales Price, $29.75

"St. Margaret's" English Jerseys

FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

Mothers will surely take advantage of this big saving and get their requirements in this splendid line of pure wool Cashmere Jerseys for spring and summer wear. Made of pure wool, button shoulder style, in colors of plain Navy, Cardinal, Cadet and Brown.

Regular $3.95, Sale price $2.95

Regular $4.95, Sale price $3.75

Regular $5.95, Sale price $4.50

JANUARY CLEARANCE

Women's and Children's Gaiters and Spats

Children's Corduroy Leggings, colors White, Brown and Cardinal, Regular $2.25, January Sale price $1.69

Children's Leather Leggings

Regular $4.95, January Sale $3.75

Made from a nice quality soft tanned leather in nice shade of tan, warmly lined with white felt, in good length and come well over the knee; sizes 8, 9 and 10. Regular $4.95, priced at, pair, $3.75

Women's Stylish Spats

Ten and fifteen button, Regular $3.00, January Sale $2.25

They include the newest boot top styles, in colors of Pearl, Taupe, Brown and Fawn.

Women's Black Felt Gaiters

High Knee Length, Regular $3.00, January Sale $2.25

They are made from extra quality black felt cloth and are very warm and comfortable for women who have any distance to drive. All sizes. Regular $3.00, January Sale price $2.25

COOKING WATER

(By C. A. Stephens)

As Mr. Wright, the teacher at our district school in Maine, sat at his desk, settling copies in the writing books, one of the large boys in the back seat where Rufus Cummings sat, threw a red-hot acorn. It hit the master squarely on the top of his head. Naturally Mr. Wright was angry, and, thinking that he had caught a glimpse of Rufus' arm in motion, he called him out.

"Give me your hand," he said, and, taking up his ruler, he began to flog him so severely that Rufus finally jerked his hand away.

Thereupon Mr. Wright seized Rufus by the collar, but in the scuffle that followed the master slipped, fell and struck his forehead against the stove. The bad bruise and burn that he got laid him up and closed the school for a week. The boy who had thrown the acorn was too much of a sneak to own up.

On recovering, Mr. Wright summoned the school committee and had Rufus Cummings expelled from school. And there was Rufus Cummings, brought his books home that night his stepfather, a stern, harsh man, gave him a severe horsewhipping.

As a result of it all, Rufus ran away from home the following evening. Of course he could not have done so, but many things had been leading up to it, and he had not had fair play. Two days later he was seen in Portland, and all that he could find out about him was that he had shipped as a sailor on a bark, lumber laden, bound round Cape Horn for Valparaiso.

That was twenty-five years ago. When one day, a year or two ago, I saw the name of Rufus Gales Cummings mentioned in a Melbourne, Australia, newspaper as a candidate for a high office at Perth, it occurred to me that since Gales is an unusual name the man might possibly be one of the long-lost Rufus; and on chance I wrote a letter to this Rufus Cummings.

Three months passed, and then in reply to my letter I received a long and intensely interesting narrative. For sure enough it was our long-lost Rufus; and he had recently been elected to the office for which I had seen his name proposed.

He began by telling me how glad he was to hear from his old Maine home. He had never written, because he felt that he left Maine under a cloud, and he doubted that anyone cared to hear from him. From Valparaiso he had gone on a whaler to the Australian whaling grounds. It happened that the vessel put in at the mouth of the Swan River, near Perth, for water and fresh food at the time of the gold rush to the Coolgardie region in the desert. Almost all the sailors on the whaler deserted; and at last the captain laid his vessel up and joined the gold seekers himself.

Rufus, now in his eighteenth year, set off with others. On the way he fell in with a prospector named Bassett, an Englishman, who gave Rufus his meals in return for the boy's loyalty. Three months passed, and then in reply to my letter I received a long and intensely interesting narrative.

For sure enough it was our long-lost Rufus; and he had recently been elected to the office for which I had seen his name proposed.

He began by telling me how glad he was to hear from his old Maine home. He had never written, because he felt that he left Maine under a cloud, and he doubted that anyone cared to hear from him. From Valparaiso he had gone on a whaler to the Australian whaling grounds. It happened that the vessel put in at the mouth of the Swan River, near Perth, for water and fresh food at the time of the gold rush to the Coolgardie region in the desert. Almost all the sailors on the whaler deserted; and at last the captain laid his vessel up and joined the gold seekers himself.

Rufus, now in his eighteenth year, set off with others. On the way he fell in with a prospector named Bassett, an Englishman, who gave Rufus his meals in return for the boy's loyalty. Three months passed, and then in reply to my letter I received a long and intensely interesting narrative.

For sure enough it was our long-lost Rufus; and he had recently been elected to the office for which I had seen his name proposed.

He began by telling me how glad he was to hear from his old Maine home. He had never written, because he felt that he left Maine under a cloud, and he doubted that anyone cared to hear from him. From Valparaiso he had gone on a whaler to the Australian whaling grounds. It happened that the vessel put in at the mouth of the Swan River, near Perth, for water and fresh food at the time of the gold rush to the Coolgardie region in the desert. Almost all the sailors on the whaler deserted; and at last the captain laid his vessel up and joined the gold seekers himself.

Rufus, now in his eighteenth year, set off with others. On the way he fell in with a prospector named Bassett, an Englishman, who gave Rufus his meals in return for the boy's loyalty. Three months passed, and then in reply to my letter I received a long and intensely interesting narrative.

For sure enough it was our long-lost Rufus; and he had recently been elected to the office for which I had seen his name proposed.

He began by telling me how glad he was to hear from his old Maine home. He had never written, because he felt that he left Maine under a cloud, and he doubted that anyone cared to hear from him. From Valparaiso he had gone on a whaler to the Australian whaling grounds. It happened that the vessel put in at the mouth of the Swan River, near Perth, for water and fresh food at the time of the gold rush to the Coolgardie region in the desert. Almost all the sailors on the whaler deserted; and at last the captain laid his vessel up and joined the gold seekers himself.

Rufus, now in his eighteenth year, set off with others. On the way he fell in with a prospector named Bassett, an Englishman, who gave Rufus his meals in return for the boy's loyalty. Three months passed, and then in reply to my letter I received a long and intensely interesting narrative.

For sure enough it was our long-lost Rufus; and he had recently been elected to the office for which I had seen his name proposed.

He began by telling me how glad he was to hear from his old Maine home. He had never written, because he felt that he left Maine under a cloud, and he doubted that anyone cared to hear from him. From Valparaiso he had gone on a whaler to the Australian whaling grounds. It happened that the vessel put in at the mouth of the Swan River, near Perth, for water and fresh food at the time of the gold rush to the Coolgardie region in the desert. Almost all the sailors on the whaler deserted; and at last the captain laid his vessel up and joined the gold seekers himself.

Rufus, now in his eighteenth year, set off with others. On the way he fell in with a prospector named Bassett, an Englishman, who gave Rufus his meals in return for the boy's loyalty. Three months passed, and then in reply to my letter I received a long and intensely interesting narrative.

For sure enough it was our long-lost Rufus; and he had recently been elected to the office for which I had seen his name proposed.

He began by telling me how glad he was to hear from his old Maine home. He had never written, because he felt that he left Maine under a cloud, and he doubted that anyone cared to hear from him. From Valparaiso he had gone on a whaler to the Australian whaling grounds. It happened that the vessel put in at the mouth of the Swan River, near Perth, for water and fresh food at the time of the gold rush to the Coolgardie region in the desert. Almost all the sailors on the whaler deserted; and at last the captain laid his vessel up and joined the gold seekers himself.

Rufus, now in his eighteenth year, set off with others. On the way he fell in with a prospector named Bassett, an Englishman, who gave Rufus his meals in return for the boy's loyalty. Three months passed, and then in reply to my letter I received a long and intensely interesting narrative.

he and Rufus distilled thirty gallons of water, most of which the sailors drank. Attracted by the sight of the furnace fire, other gold seekers with thirsty mouths came to Bassett's camp and bought along with him. For a few days, distilling water and selling it to those who had not brought along condenser, Rufus took to cut fuel for the furnace from the dead gum trees and to break a path through the dried, white-barked trees of the lake shore for two hundred yards or more out to the shallow salt water, which he fetched in buckets for the cauldron. Hard, hot work he found it under that broiling sun.

During the second day that they cooked water, as they called it, a tragedy occurred that laid Rufus alone at the salt lake. At nightfall three prospectors with a camel reached the lake, and coming to Bassett's camp, begged for water. Bassett offered them water at a shilling a quart, but they loudly declared that the price was excessive. When Bassett refused, angrily disputing, the thirsty camel thrust its head into the tank and drank. Bassett ordered them to take the beast away; and when the prospectors refused to do so, Bassett, with his four harsh, passionate men, rushed to his tent, snatching up his carbine, and shot the camel dead. A little later in the course of which one of the prospectors dealt Bassett a heavy blow over the head with a pick. When Rufus, who had been out at the lake, came up, Bassett lay dead.

The three strangers coolly appropriated both of Bassett's camels in place of the one he had shot, and as they proceeded on their way one of them turned back and shot Rufus. When his life, he had better say nothing of what had happened.

While Rufus stood there, bewildered and not a little terrified, four young Englishmen on their way to the mines came up. They saw what had happened, and they asked Rufus to describe Bassett's murder, made note of the facts and told the boy that, if he would, they would certainly see that the men were brought to justice.

While Rufus was re-kindling the fire to cook some of the meat of the newcomers, who were prospectors of the better class, buried Bassett in the white-crosted mud, and one of them read the service over the grave. They also buried the camel. When Rufus had distilled enough water for their ponies, they measured it out correctly and gave him sixpence a quart for it. "For better or for evil," said one of them, "let us see what you can do."

"Water is the thing we need most here," the dead gum trees made excellent fuel, and thirty of the old dead trees, some of them almost six feet in diameter, stood along the lake shore. But they were hard to cut; and parties of prospectors, demanding water, came up so frequently that Rufus had to work almost night and day and catch a nap when he could. As the rule, the gold seekers cheerfully paid the price that the young Englishman had set.

On several occasions some of the travellers of the rougher sort, guessing that Rufus had saved money, tried to rob him and ransomed him. But Rufus had hidden his growing hoard of shillings and shillings beneath the root of one of the old gum trees, at a distance from the tent, and in a large hole in the old tree stub he kept Bassett's carbine. When he suspected foul play, he ran thither and stood the would-be robbers about and temporarily disabled them. The next party that came along helped him put it to rights.

When the supplies that Bassett had brought from Perth had given out, Rufus supplied his needs by exchanging his fur for canned meats, hard biscuits, coffee and sugar, with parties on the way to the mines.

Rufus was at the salt lake in the desert for thirty-two months. He called the place Carnaloy, and as time passed it came to be known all the way to the country from Perth as the camp where water could be obtained. Very often the demand for water was greater than Rufus could supply, and it was always a hard task to clean the daily accumulated mass of salt and dirt from the cauldron and pails. At last he laid a path over the salt flats to the lake and pumped water to the cauldron, instead of carrying it in buckets.

The really hard work was cutting and fetching wood for the fire. It seems almost incredible that Rufus should have kept going during the time he cooked water. He cut more than a hundred and fifty cords of that hard, dry gumwood, a stiff task for a young fellow, even though he was accustomed from boyhood to playing an axe. He estimated that during the thirty-two months he must have distilled altogether at least twenty thousand gallons of water for which he had received more than two thousand pounds in English money, which he sent back to Perth by mail.

As one tragedy had left Rufus alone in the desert, another tragedy came to him in the form of a young Englishman. A Scotchman named McTear, on his way back to Perth from the lake, was accompanied by two black leading four well-tanned brambles. McTear appeared at the lake one night, accompanied by two black leading four well-tanned brambles. McTear appeared at the lake one night, accompanied by two black leading four well-tanned brambles.

Let us in the night Rufus was awakened by a shot, followed by two or three more, then shouts and groans. He sprang up, but on emerging from the tent he found himself fired on twice. As he ran for the hollow gum, where he kept his carbine, several other shots were fired and he heard the blacks calling out to each other. The cartridges consumed by the firing were dark, and Rufus judged it safer not to leave his post by his tent. He would, therefore, wait until daylight, when all seemed quiet at the camp, he went back there. To his horror, he found McTear and another white man of rough appearance lying dead; the blacks had apparently fired in a quarrel. From what came out later, it seems that a miner who had had a quarrel with McTear at the mines, had followed him and attacked him. But Rufus, though mortally wounded, had been able to shoot his assailant.

Rufus thus found himself there alone with the bodies of two dead men, and that afternoon he buried them. In McTear's saddlebags Rufus found two backskin sacks that contained a large amount of loose gold. The Scotchman had evidently done well at the diggings, and was on his homeward way. Rufus judged that the two sacks weighed fully thirty pounds, and he was a good deal richer than he was. He was so poor that he feared that other enemies of the dead man might appear. At last he buried the sacks in the dried mud, and passed the nights at the refuge in the old gum. But the responsibility of caring for the dead gold weighed on him. He dared not mention it to the miners who were coming and going; yet he felt that he was a loss to the world, and so, as his supply of gumwood for the lumber running short, he resolved to return to Perth, and to take the gold with him. He loaded up McTear's brambles with the pick and shovel and what water they could carry and started. The old condenser he abandoned.

On the day after his arrival at Perth Rufus went to tell the governor that he had found the bodies of two dead men, and that afternoon he buried them. In McTear's saddlebags Rufus found two backskin sacks that contained a large amount of loose gold. The Scotchman had evidently done well at the diggings, and was on his homeward way. Rufus judged that the two sacks weighed fully thirty pounds, and he was a good deal richer than he was.

He was so poor that he feared that other enemies of the dead man might appear. At last he buried the sacks in the dried mud, and passed the nights at the refuge in the old gum. But the responsibility of caring for the dead gold weighed on him. He dared not mention it to the miners who were coming and going; yet he felt that he was a loss to the world, and so, as his supply of gumwood for the lumber running short, he resolved to return to Perth, and to take the gold with him. He loaded up McTear's brambles with the pick and shovel and what water they could carry and started. The old condenser he abandoned.

On the day after his arrival at Perth Rufus went to tell the governor that he had found the bodies of two dead men, and that afternoon he buried them. In McTear's saddlebags Rufus found two backskin sacks that contained a large amount of loose gold. The Scotchman had evidently done well at the diggings, and was on his homeward way. Rufus judged that the two sacks weighed fully thirty pounds, and he was a good deal richer than he was.

He was so poor that he feared that other enemies of the dead man might appear. At last he buried the sacks in the dried mud, and passed the nights at the refuge in the old gum. But the responsibility of caring for the dead gold weighed on him. He dared not mention it to the miners who were coming and going; yet he felt that he was a loss to the world, and so, as his supply of gumwood for the lumber running short, he resolved to return to Perth, and to take the gold with him. He loaded up McTear's brambles with the pick and shovel and what water they could carry and started. The old condenser he abandoned.

On the day after his arrival at Perth Rufus went to tell the governor that he had found the bodies of two dead men, and that afternoon he buried them. In McTear's saddlebags Rufus found two backskin sacks that contained a large amount of loose gold. The Scotchman had evidently done well at the diggings, and was on his homeward way. Rufus judged that the two sacks weighed fully thirty pounds, and he was a good deal richer than he was.

He was so poor that he feared that other enemies of the dead man might appear. At last he buried the sacks in the dried mud, and passed the nights at the refuge in the old gum. But the responsibility of caring for the dead gold weighed on him. He dared not mention it to the miners who were coming and going; yet he felt that he was a loss to the world, and so, as his supply of gumwood for the lumber running short, he resolved to return to Perth, and to take the gold with him. He loaded up McTear's brambles with the pick and shovel and what water they could carry and started. The old condenser he abandoned.

he and Rufus distilled thirty gallons of water, most of which the sailors drank. Attracted by the sight of the furnace fire, other gold seekers with thirsty mouths came to Bassett's camp and bought along with him. For a few days, distilling water and selling it to those who had not brought along condenser, Rufus took to cut fuel for the furnace from the dead gum trees and to break a path through the dried, white-barked trees of the lake shore for two hundred yards or more out to the shallow salt water, which he fetched in buckets for the cauldron. Hard, hot work he found it under that broiling sun.

During the second day that they cooked water, as they called it, a tragedy occurred that laid Rufus alone at the salt lake. At nightfall three prospectors with a camel reached the lake, and coming to Bassett's camp, begged for water. Bassett offered them water at a shilling a quart, but they loudly declared that the price was excessive. When Bassett refused, angrily disputing, the thirsty camel thrust its head into the tank and drank. Bassett ordered them to take the beast away; and when the prospectors refused to do so, Bassett, with his four harsh, passionate men, rushed to his tent, snatching up his carbine, and shot the camel dead. A little later in the course of which one of the prospectors dealt Bassett a heavy blow over the head with a pick. When Rufus, who had been out at the lake, came up, Bassett lay dead.

The three strangers coolly appropriated both of Bassett's camels in place of the one he had shot, and as they proceeded on their way one of them turned back and shot Rufus. When his life, he had better say nothing of what had happened.

While Rufus stood there, bewildered and not a little terrified, four young Englishmen on their way to the mines came up. They saw what had happened, and they asked Rufus to describe Bassett's murder, made note of the facts and told the boy that, if he would, they would certainly see that the men were brought to justice.

While Rufus was re-kindling the fire to cook some of the meat of the newcomers, who were prospectors of the better class, buried Bassett in the white-crosted mud, and one of them read the service over the grave. They also buried the camel. When Rufus had distilled enough water for their ponies, they measured it out correctly and gave him sixpence a quart for it. "For better or for evil," said one of them, "let us see what you can do."

"Water is the thing we need most here," the dead gum trees made excellent fuel, and thirty of the old dead trees, some of them almost six feet in diameter, stood along the lake shore. But they were hard to cut; and parties of prospectors, demanding water, came up so frequently that Rufus had to work almost night and day and catch a nap when he could. As the rule, the gold seekers cheerfully paid the price that the young Englishman had set.

On several occasions some of the travellers of the rougher sort, guessing that Rufus had saved money, tried to rob him and ransomed him. But Rufus had hidden his growing hoard of shillings and shillings beneath the root of one of the old gum trees, at a distance from the tent, and in a large hole in the old tree stub he kept Bassett's carbine. When he suspected foul play, he ran thither and stood the would-be robbers about and temporarily disabled them. The next party that came along helped him put it to rights.

When the supplies that Bassett had brought from Perth had given out, Rufus supplied his needs by exchanging his fur for canned meats, hard biscuits, coffee and sugar, with parties on the way to the mines.

Rufus was at the salt lake in the desert for thirty-two months. He called the place Carnaloy, and as time passed it came to be known all the way to the country from Perth as the camp where water could be obtained. Very often the demand for water was greater than Rufus could supply, and it was always a hard task to clean the daily accumulated mass of salt and dirt from the cauldron and pails. At last he laid a path over the salt flats to the lake and pumped water to the cauldron, instead of carrying it in buckets.

The really hard work was cutting and fetching wood for the fire. It seems almost incredible that Rufus should have kept going during the time he cooked water. He cut more than a hundred and fifty cords of that hard, dry gumwood, a stiff task for a young fellow, even though he was accustomed from boyhood to playing an axe. He estimated that during the thirty-two months he must have distilled altogether at least twenty thousand gallons of water for which he had received more than two thousand pounds in English money, which he sent back to Perth by mail.

As one tragedy had left Rufus alone in the desert, another tragedy came to him in the form of a young Englishman. A Scotchman named McTear, on his way back to Perth from the lake, was accompanied by two black leading four well-tanned brambles. McTear appeared at the lake one night, accompanied by two black leading four well-tanned brambles.

Let us in the night Rufus was awakened by a shot, followed by two or three more, then shouts and groans. He sprang up, but on emerging from the tent he found himself fired on twice. As he ran for the hollow gum, where he kept his carbine, several other shots were fired and he heard the blacks calling out to each other. The cartridges consumed by the firing were dark, and Rufus judged it safer not to leave his post by his tent. He would, therefore, wait until daylight, when all seemed quiet at the camp, he went back there. To his horror, he found McTear and another white man of rough appearance lying dead; the blacks had apparently fired in a quarrel. From what came out later, it seems that a miner who had had a quarrel with McTear at the mines, had followed him and attacked him. But Rufus, though mortally wounded, had been able to shoot his assailant.

Rufus thus found himself there alone with the bodies of two dead men, and that afternoon he buried them. In McTear's saddlebags Rufus found two backskin sacks that contained a large amount of loose gold. The Scotchman had evidently done well at the diggings, and was on his homeward way. Rufus judged that the two sacks weighed fully thirty pounds, and he was a good deal richer than he was.

He was so poor that he feared that other enemies of the dead man might appear. At last he buried the sacks in the dried mud, and passed the nights at the refuge in the old gum. But the responsibility of caring for the dead gold weighed on him. He dared not mention it to the miners who were coming and going; yet he felt that he was a loss to the world, and so, as his supply of gumwood for the lumber running short, he resolved to return to Perth, and to take the gold with him. He loaded up McTear's brambles with the pick and shovel and what water they could carry and started. The old condenser he abandoned.

On the day after his arrival at Perth Rufus went to tell the governor that he had found the bodies of two dead men, and that afternoon he buried them. In McTear's saddlebags Rufus found two backskin sacks that contained a large amount of loose gold. The Scotchman had evidently done well at the diggings, and was on his homeward way. Rufus judged that the two sacks weighed fully thirty pounds, and he was a good deal richer than he was.

He was so poor that he feared that other enemies of the dead man might appear. At last he buried the sacks in the dried mud, and passed the nights at the refuge in the old gum. But the responsibility of caring for the dead gold weighed on him. He dared not mention it to the miners who were coming and going; yet he felt that he was a loss to the world, and so, as his supply of gumwood for the lumber running short, he resolved to return to Perth, and to take the gold with him. He loaded up McTear's brambles with the pick and shovel and what water they could carry and started. The old condenser he abandoned.

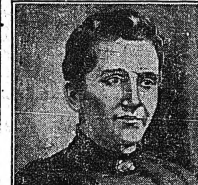

On the day after his arrival at Perth Rufus went to tell the governor that he had found the bodies of two dead men, and that afternoon he buried them. In McTear's saddlebags Rufus found two backskin sacks that contained a large amount of loose gold. The Scotchman had evidently done well at the diggings, and was on his homeward way. Rufus judged that the two sacks weighed fully thirty pounds, and he was a good deal richer than he was.

He was so poor that he feared that other enemies of the dead man might appear. At last he buried the sacks in the dried mud, and passed the nights at the refuge in the old gum. But the responsibility of caring for the dead gold weighed on him. He dared not mention it to the miners who were coming and going; yet he felt that he was a loss to the world, and so, as his supply of gumwood for the lumber running short, he resolved to return to Perth, and to take the gold with him. He loaded up McTear's brambles with the pick and shovel and what water they could carry and started. The old condenser he abandoned.

On the day after his arrival at Perth Rufus went to tell the governor that he had found the bodies of two dead men, and that afternoon he buried them. In McTear's saddlebags Rufus found two backskin sacks that contained a large amount of loose gold. The Scotchman had evidently done well at the diggings, and was on his homeward way. Rufus judged that the two sacks weighed fully thirty pounds, and he was a good deal richer than he was.

FREE OF TERRIBLE KIDNEY TROUBLE

After Three Years of Suffering, "FRUIT-A-TIVES" Brought Relief

MADAME HORMIDAS FOISY

624 Champlain St., Montreal.

"For three years, I was ill and exhausted and I suffered constantly from Kidney Trouble and Liver Disease. My health was miserable and nothing in the way of medicine did me any good. Then I started to use 'Fruit-A-Tives' and the effect was remarkable.

I began to improve immediately and this wonderful fruit medicine entirely restored me to health. All the old pains, headaches, indigestion and constipation were relieved and are no more.

To all who suffer from Indigestion, Constipation, Rheumatic Pains or Great Fatigue, I advise the use of 'Fruit-A-Tives'.

MADAME HORMIDAS FOISY.

Box a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c.

At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-A-Tives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

the governor of the colony of Western Australia. He obtained an audience, and after describing the circumstances of McTear's death, asked assistance in finding the dead man's heirs and in having justice done.

The governor at once had the gold weighed and rated; the proceeds, after deducting three thousand pounds, were deposited in one of the banks, pending a legal disposition of it, which was at last made in behalf of McTear's aged parents and two sisters in Scotland.

The governor was a man of reserved speech and manners, but after the business had been transacted, he said: "Mr. Cummings, you were a tell me, quite alone there the day after those homicides had occurred?"

"You," he replied, "Rufus Cummings. 'Did it not occur to you that you might keep that gold yourself and no one would be the wiser for it?'"

"I may have thought of that," replied Rufus, reddening a little. "But it would not be just my way of doing things."

The official regarded him for a moment in silence. "I hope you will become a resident of Perth," he said at length to Rufus. "We need just such young men as you are here in this community."

A few months later Rufus purchased a schooner with the money he had made and embarked on the lumber business between Perth and the mouth of the Fitzroy river, farther westward in Western Australia. Some years elapsed, and then one day the governor sent a messenger to request Rufus to call at the colonial office. Rufus at once presented himself, and the governor greeted him cordially.

"Mr. Cummings," he said, "I have taken the liberty of naming you to the council for an important fiscal office that is now vacant. I hope very much that you will take it."

Naturally Rufus felt greatly flattered at this proof of esteem on the part of the government. "But I might have trouble, sir, in procuring a guaranty for such an office," he replied. "I am an American-born and have no influential connections here."

"That need not disturb you," replied the governor. "I will be one of your bondsmen myself. I have not at all forgotten your conduct in the matter of Mr. McTear's gold."

Two weeks later Rufus was confirmed as an official of Western Australia. It was the beginning of his official career in that distant quarter of the world; and there is in the story of his success I think, a good, wholesome lesson for every boy who reads this paper.

DO YOU SUFFER WITH Headache, Dizzy Spins? TAKE VITAL TABLETS

If one has headaches or dizzy spells, there is certainly a cause for it, and there is certainly a remedy. Headaches and dizzy spells are removed by the use of Vital Tablets, and to create a healthy action of the blood and to remove the cause of the trouble, a new person in a short time. Go to your druggist and get a box of Vital Tablets. Price one a box or 6 for $2.50, or by mail. The Scobell Drug Co., Montreal.

KEEPING UP THE WINTER PEACE TIME MILK SUPPLY

(Experimental Farms Notes)

How to keep up the winter milk flow is a problem confronting a great many dairymen, more so in sections where the temperature averages that in the milder climate of British Columbia. Invariably the price of milk goes up in the fall and winter, and just as unprofitably the supply drops in the fall and increases in the spring. This makes it important from a financial viewpoint that the winter milk supply be kept up. Usually farm labor is more plentiful in the winter, as no crops have to be grown or harvested and extra attention can more readily be given the dairy cows.

One of the first requisites of a heavy winter milk flow is good cows. The cows should be capable of heavy production in winter. If given the proper attention, there may be some who will be shown at the Allen theatre, Edmonton, during the last three nights of the present week. Later they will appear in Calgary and in other provinces of the Dominion.

Every one of the scenes is an actual representation of the work carried on by the Division, and all of the persons who appear in the pictures are actual workers for the Red Cross. Citizens who witnessed the screening on Saturday describe the series as particularly good ones, and the Red Cross pictures when exhibited will prove a strong attraction. They will bring home to the people of Alberta, as no written words could, a realization of the work being done in the province. The receipt of an emergency call at the Red Cross headquarters, the means taken to meet the emergency, the routine work of the various departments, the educational propaganda of the Red Cross, all these are graphically shown, as well as the organization of Junior Red Cross branches by the children, and the manner in which the young members carry into practice the principles of mutual helpfulness upon which their organization is founded. The pictures afford an insight into the life of the little boys and girls in Red Cross homes for soldiers' children which have been established in the province.

Some summer scenes are particularly good ones, and the Red Cross pictures when exhibited will prove a strong attraction. They will bring home to the people of Alberta, as no written words could, a realization of the work being done in the province. The receipt of an emergency call at the Red Cross headquarters, the means taken to meet the emergency, the routine work of the various departments, the educational propaganda of the Red Cross, all these are graphically shown, as well as the organization of Junior Red Cross branches by the children, and the manner in which the young members carry into practice the principles of mutual helpfulness upon which their organization is founded. The pictures afford an insight into the life of the little boys and girls in Red Cross homes for soldiers' children which have been established in the province.

Another very important factor in connection with the winter milk yield is the feeding. Some good cows capable of high production do not get into the winter milk flow in the fall or early winter. By so doing the bulk of the milk is given at the time of year when both feed and labor tend to retard production.

Another very important factor in connection with the winter milk yield is the feeding. Some good cows capable of high production do not get into the winter milk flow in the fall or early winter. By so doing the bulk of the milk is given at the time of year when both feed and labor tend to retard production.

Another very important factor in connection with the winter milk yield is the feeding. Some good cows capable of high production do not get into the winter milk flow in the fall or early winter. By so doing the bulk of the milk is given at the time of year when both feed and labor tend to retard production.

Another very important factor in connection with the winter milk yield is the feeding. Some good cows capable of high production do not get into the winter milk flow in the fall or early winter. By so doing the bulk of the milk is given at the time of year when both feed and labor tend to retard production.

Another very important factor in connection with the winter milk yield is the feeding. Some good cows capable of high production do not get into the winter milk flow in the fall or early winter. By so doing the bulk of the milk is given at the time of year when both feed and labor tend to retard production.

Another very important factor in connection with the winter milk yield is the feeding. Some good cows capable of high production do not get into the winter milk flow in the fall or early winter. By so doing the bulk of the milk is given at the time of year when both feed and labor tend to retard production.

Another very important factor in connection with the winter milk yield is the feeding. Some good cows capable of high production do not get into the winter milk flow in the fall or early winter. By so doing the bulk of the milk is given at the time of year when both feed and labor tend to retard production.

Another very important factor in connection with the winter milk yield is the feeding. Some good cows capable of high production do not get into the winter milk flow in the fall or early winter. By so doing the bulk of the milk is given at the time of year when both feed and labor tend to retard production.

Another very important factor in connection with the winter milk yield is the feeding. Some good cows capable of high production do not get into the winter milk flow in the fall or early winter. By so doing the bulk of the milk is given at the time of year when both feed and labor tend to retard production.

Another very important factor in connection with the winter milk yield is the feeding. Some good cows capable of high production do not get into the winter milk flow in the fall or early winter. By so doing the bulk of the milk is given at the time of year when both feed and labor tend to retard production.

Another very important factor in connection with the winter milk yield is the feeding. Some good cows capable of high production do not get into the winter milk flow in the fall or early winter. By so doing the bulk of the milk is given at the time of year when both feed and labor tend to retard production.

Another very important factor in connection with the winter milk yield is the feeding. Some good cows capable of high production do not get into the winter milk flow in the fall or early winter. By so doing the bulk of the milk is given at the time of year when both feed and labor tend to retard production.

Another very important factor in connection with the winter milk yield is the feeding. Some good cows capable of high production do not get into the winter milk flow in the fall or early winter. By so doing the bulk of the milk is given at the time of year when both feed and labor tend to retard production.

Another very important factor in connection with the winter milk yield is the feeding. Some good cows capable of high production do not get into the winter milk flow in the fall or early winter. By so doing the bulk of the milk is given at the time of year when both feed and labor tend to retard production.

PROFESSIONAL

Drs. COLLISON & SANDERS

Physicians and Surgeons

J. Collison, M.D.C.M.—Specialist Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat.
D. W. Sanders, M.D.C.M.—Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, Edinburgh.
Office Hours—9:10 a.m. to 11:15 a.m., 2 p.m. to 5 p.m., or by appointment.

Drs. PARSONS & MACKENZIE

Physicians and Surgeons.

R. Parsons, M.D.C.M.—Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh.
W. J. MacKenzie, M.D.C.M.
X-ray laboratory in office. Office hours—11:15 a.m. to 5 p.m., 7 p.m. or by appointment.

E. W. DeLong, M.D., C.M.

Physician and Surgeon.

Offices—Humber Block, over Western General Electric Co.
Office hours: 10:15 a.m. to 2 p.m., 7 p.m., and by appointment.

DENTISTRY.

DR. J. B. LONG

Dental Surgeon.

Graduate—
Royal College of Dental Surgeons of Ontario.
University of Toronto Dental Faculty.
Member of Dominion Dental Council.
Office, Smith & Gatz Block.
Phone 112. Red Deer.

DR. J. R. MACROSTIE

DR. A. T. GRIBBLE

Dental Surgeons.

Graduates Chicago College of Dental Surgery. Licentiate in U.S. and Alberta. Office over Royal Bank Phone 148.

CHIROPRACTORS.

BONSALL & BONSALL

Doctors of Chiropractic.

Spinal adjustments for acute and chronic disorders of the body. Palmer School graduates. Consultation and Spinal Analysis free at Office: Michener Block, entrance on Gatz Ave. Telephone—Office 24; Residence, 241. Office hours: 10 to 12 p.m., 2 to 5 p.m., and 7 to 9 p.m.

LEGAL.

PAYNE & GRAHAM

Barristers, Solicitors, Advocates, Notaries.

Ernest W. Payne. P. E. Graham
Money to loan on town and farm property. Office: Judge Greene Block.

RUSSELL & McCLURE

Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries.

A. H. Russell, K.C. J. R. McClure, B.A.
Office—Royal Bank Block.

JONES, SCOTT & McLAURIN

Barristers, Solicitors, Etc.

Smith & Gatz Block. Red Deer, Alta.

MARRIAGE LICENCES.

H. H. HUMBER

Red Deer, Alberta.

Watchmaker, Jeweller and Optician
Issuer of Marriage Licences.

AUCTIONEERS.

N. WHITE

Auctioneer & Commission Broker.

Farm and Town Sales Solicited. Several years' experience. "Satisfaction guaranteed."

A. ROGERS

Licensed Auctioneer for Alberta.

Address—P.O. Box 600, Red Deer
A square deal for everybody.

A. D. MCGUINE

The Farmers' Auctioneer. Farm Sales a Specialty in City or Country. See me before listing your sales. I will both save and make you money.
Address—Box 720, Red Deer.

Mrs. W. Johnson Cook

Teacher of Singing and Voice Production.

702, Gatz Ave. South. Phone 214.
Red Deer, Dec. 1, 1921.

PIANO TUNING.

For Expert Piano Tuning engage

J. E. WELFON, Resident Tuner

Phone: 806, Red Deer, Alberta, 278
P.O. Box 664, Red Deer, Alta.

VETERINARY SURGEONS.

F. A. McEWAN

Veterinary Surgeon.

Honorary Graduate of Ontario Veterinary College. Office—Howson's Barn.
Residence: Michener Hill. Phone 37.

THE RED DEER SHOE SHOP

GENERAL REPAIRING

I mend all kinds of Boots and Shoes. Mail orders promptly Executed.

Camille Rovers

Second St. S.E. P.O. Box 412.

IDLE THOUGHTS OF A BUSY FARMER

We saw in a Calgary paper that the prohibitionists proposed holding Sunday, 9th, as a day of thanksgiving for their great victory at the recent vote of October 25th. As we were not at church that day, we don't know the extent of the celebration. We would, however, propose to the same people that they appoint another Sunday for thanksgiving. The prohibitionists brought to the vineyardists of North America through prohibition. Before prohibition the grape growers of California received $10 to $20 a ton for their grapes for wine making. The grape crop of 1919 (the first sold under the U.S. law) began to move at $35 a ton and the price mounted to $70 before it was over. The 1920 crop sold up to $125 a ton. These grapes were shipped to the west and middle west for individuals to make their own booze privately. Those living too far off to get the grapes at a natural rate in the U.S. tried to grow them so they could soak the raisins and still have their desired "vin." The consequence is that the home brewers have boosted the demand for raisins to such an extent that the price has risen to almost prohibitive prices, and the wife of Mr. Prohibitionist now finds it almost impossible to buy the raisins to put in the dear man's plum duff.

We hear people speak of the ancient game of golf. Many readers of The News may be surprised to hear that the game of golf is not mentioned in the Bible, but cricket certainly is, for we read in the 16th chapter of the Book of Daniel that the king of Persia had a garden in which he kept his fowls and his green with the good old game. We feel sure this isn't wide of the course either.

We see in the Lacombe Globe that "Les Steers" paid a flying visit to Calgary Sunday last. This is the first intimation that an airplane has been operated from Lacombe, or have we a flying steer as well as a blind pig?

A Gazette file February 1st on the date on which the provincial interchange of booze shall stop. After that date will only be "white wine" and "white wine" become a popular topic. What price became? Woodrow Wilson said $40,000 for the Nobel Peace prize. Jack Dempsey got $100,000 for a single fight. How does it pay to be a pacifist?

Smith: "That fellow you had working for you asked for a job this morning. Was he a steady chap?"
Thorne: "He was. If he had been any steadier he would have been motionless."

"Ma, did you ever hear a rabbit bark?" asked Isabel Robertson. "Rabbits don't bark, my dear," answered the mother. "I heard a rabbit bark," answered Isabel. "My school boy says rabbits eat cabbage and bark."

Equal rights, votes for women, etc., is a joke. We like to see women taking her right place, so on and so forth, but we don't like to see them taking the place of men. Our old woman has become a spry little thing. She caught three colds in two weeks. How speed limit is necessary, I think.

DISPUTE IN U.F.O. NOW PATCHED UP

Trouble Between Premier Drury and Officials of Farmers' Organization Due to Misunderstanding.

Toronto, January 20.—To all outward appearances everything is lovely in the relations between Premier B. C. Drury and Secretary J. J. Morrison of the United Farmers of Ontario, and the so-called "dispute" between them on the premier's "broadening out" policy in the past week or so has been due to a little misunderstanding, rather than any clash of opinion. This is the understanding of the matter today, after several hours of threatening out the question by the premier and Secretary Morrison at the U.F.O. headquarters on King street east.

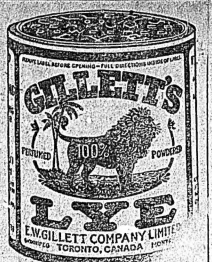

Neither of the two sides to the controversy offered to make a statement for the public. Secretary Morrison, however, remarked to press representatives at the conclusion of the conference that everything is alright. Premier Drury, in response to an invitation from the U.F.O. executive, attended the executive meeting this morning, accompanied by Hon. Manning DeBerry, minister of agriculture. It is understood that a good part of the day was spent in a discussion of the premier's "broadening out" policy, which Mr. Drury is said to have explained to the satisfaction of Secretary Morrison and the officers of the U.F.O. executive.

Premier's Policy
In brief, the premier's policy is not to throw the U.F.O. open to any calling that that of the farmer, but to "broaden" the Ontario government so as to give encouragement to urban support of the government by men in any calling, business or profession, who showed sympathy with the farmer government. Keep the U.F.O. intact as a farmers' organization, but get what help is available for the government in the cities and towns—this is practically the premier's policy, so it is in order to put the Act into operation.

Secretary Morrison is said to have been satisfied with the premier's explanation.

NOTHING TO PREVENT WOMEN WEARING TIGHTS

Ottawa, January 22.—The police will not interfere with women in the Dominion capital who attempt to be ultra-fashionable by wearing extremely short skirts, according to Inspector McLaughlin, of the morality squad. Complaint was made that a woman who was "old enough to know better" had been seen on the street strutting and exposing her knees by a "daringly" out-of-sight skirt.
"We can't do a thing as long as her body is covered," the inspector declared. "Anyone can walk down Sparks street or any other street in tight, as long as the body is covered, and there is no law that could prevent them."

CLOSING SESSION CONVENTION U.F.A. RESOLUTIONS PUT

National Railways—Liquor Law Enforcement—Registered Stock—Meat Chilling Plant—Rural Credits

Nationalizing of all railway lines in Canada and the placing of their management in the hands of an independent commission was rejected in a resolution passed at the concluding session of the U.F.A. convention Friday night.

Amendments to the naturalization act to enable the wife of an alien to obtain her papers as a Canadian citizen and to provide that her children should not lose status due to the fact that the father is an alien, were tabled in a resolution passed by a large majority. The resolution further asked that a British woman marrying an alien may retain her denizenship.

It was recommended that the fee for taking up a bull or stallion running at large be increased to $10. A resolution authorizing the raising of the membership fee one dollar per member per year to take effect July 1st, 1922, to meet the increased obligations of the organization was endorsed by a large majority.

At the conclusion of the convention there were a large number of resolutions tabled and not heard of, owing to the lack of time and these were all turned over to the board of directors to deal with them as they see fit.

MEAT CHILLING PLANT

The establishment of a meat chilling plant was brought up for discussion at the U.F.A. convention Friday night. It resulted in the passing of a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of three to go into effect on January 1st, 1922, to investigate the matter. The committee was composed of Mr. J. J. Morrison, Mr. H. H. Humber, and Mr. C. H. McFarlane, of Cremona.

A resolution was also passed providing for the amendment of the laws pertaining to the selling of pure bred animals for breeding purposes so that the person selling the animal would be liable to action for damages provided the animal proved to be infected with tuberculosis at the time of purchase.

LIQUOR LAW ENFORCEMENT

A resolution from the women's convention urging more rigid enforcement of the laws resulting from the October referendum was passed by a unanimous vote by which the delegates pledged themselves to support the provincial authorities in the enforcement of the act by every means available. The resolution was heartily received and it was readily apparent that there was little division of opinion on the part of the delegates as to which way they were to act and when the vote was taken the house rose to the feet in a body.

Another resolution pertaining to the liquor question was passed, asking that all prescriptions issued by doctors be entered in a book open to the public at all times.

SALE OF CIGARETTE PAPERS

Protest against the manufacture and sale of cigarette papers was made in a resolution originating in the women's section, was passed by a large majority. The resolution stated that the cigarette habit was one of the worst habits of the modern age and that it was the duty of the government to take steps to suppress it. The resolution further asked that the government should take steps to suppress the cigarette habit.

EXTENSION RURAL CREDITS

The rural credits question was brought up for discussion, which resulted in the passing of a resolution urging the provincial legislature to complete arrangements to guarantee the payment to the banks of the loans made by the government under the Act. The resolution further asked that the government should take steps to ensure that the loans were used for the purpose intended.

WAR DEBT SHOULD NOT BE ALL PUT UPON MERCHANTS

W. E. LORD WANTS TAX TO BEGIN AT SOURCE

That the debt accumulated by Canada in a war for all of its citizens should not be borne heavily by the merchants alone, but by every class of its citizens, was the opinion expressed at the Wednesday afternoon sitting in Page's Hall, Calgary, of the convention of Retail Merchants of Alberta by J. Mathias. He continued: "One man is just as good as another to his community, whether he is a millionaire or receiving a small income, and therefore a tax on turnover is the fairest, because it catches every man alike—the millionaire with the rest—on an equal basis."

WOULD TAX AT SOURCE

Mr. Mathias' opinions on the subject followed a speech given by W. E. Lord, of Red Deer, suggesting a tax at the source of production instead of luxury taxes and business profits taxes. "This plan met with the unqualified approval of every member present was suggested by the speaker, and enthusiasm with which this proposal was received. The resolution committee was instructed to bring in a report on the matter on Thursday."

LAND MAIN SOURCE

One member, Mr. Dull, of Blairmore, advocated the doing away with all taxes which have been imposed upon the merchants, and fill up the treasury by taxing land, which he described as the main source of wealth. A rate of one mill an acre would prove a burden to no one, he declared, but it would produce a large source of revenue.

However, the speaker on the subject, Mr. Lord, was convinced that the only way to "get at the fountain head" was to tax the merchant, when the government would get "all the people all the time." He pointed out the great difficulty of getting all foreigners, who evaded the law at every opportunity.

TAX TURNOVER

Dealers in merchandise should not be the only persons called upon to pay the tax, declared S. G. Prosser, who proposed a tax on turnover, which should be graduated on a gross sales basis, which would lighten taxes on good stuff. This method was strongly approved of by R. J. Snell and several other members; but, other members thought that this position would be difficult to operate smoothly, pointing out that it would be a heavy burden to collect the tax on turnover, provided that it was a uniform tax, but should the tax be collected on gross sales, it would be possible by a spirit of good will and harmony in the life of the congregation.

At the close of the meeting the secretary, Mr. Kellas, of Medicine Hat, pointed out that it had been authentically reported to him that a local wholesale house was doing a retail business in boots and shoes in a certain Calgary store, and that the similar infringement was being committed by a certain concern manufacturing sewing machines. That this practice should be brought to an end immediately was the unanimous opinion of the delegates.

SUDDEN CALL OF MR. F. W. DENISON

Mr. F. W. Denison, an esteemed resident of the Edwell district, had a sudden call on Tuesday afternoon. He had stepped out to see some work and fell over the sawhorse—dead. He had been warned some eight years ago that his end would probably come that way and he has practically been living under sentence of death ever since. The shock of finding him dead was none the less a sore blow to Mrs. Denison, and to the grandson living with them, Mr. Victor E. Denison. Mr. Denison came to Edwell some twenty years ago from Port Credit, Ont., and has farmed there ever since. He was a member of the Church of England, and will be buried at the Pine Lake cemetery, Red Deer, on Friday. The service in the absence of a Church of England clergyman, Mr. Denison is survived by his widow, and his children are living. Coroner Dr. George found that death was due to natural causes.

A Popular Service

The reason why our garage has gained steadily in popularity is because of the well-known fact that we combine efficient workmanship with prompt attention and courtesy to all.

THE HUB OF MOTOR SERVICE

THE MECHANICAL GARAGE
J. F. GORING, Prop.
Agent for Dodge and McLaughlin Cars
RED DEER ALBERTA
Phone 260 Livery Day or Night

SON IS NOW LIKE A DIFFERENT BOY

Mother Doesn't Worry About Him Now, For He Is All Right Since Taking Tanlac.

"Since Tanlac has helped my young son so much, no one shall ever persuade me to buy anything else in its place," said Mrs. M. S. Richmond, 319 Vernon Drive, Suite 6, Vancouver, B.C.

"For about two years my son James was in a badly run-down condition. His appetite was so poor he was hardly eating enough to keep him up. He was nervous and restless, never slept well, and always complained of feeling tired when he got up in the morning."

"He was very weak and had hardly any energy or courage. I was afraid he was going to be laid up. My father had always been a great believer in roots and herbs, and when I learned that Tanlac was made of them I thought of giving it to him, but was persuaded to give him another medicine instead, none of which did him any good."

"Finally, a friend of mine told me how much good Tanlac had done her, so I got James a bottle, and now he is just like a different boy since he started taking it. It has given him wonderful appetite, he sleeps fine and gets up in the morning feeling good and all through the day he is full of life and energy. I have quit worrying about his health now, for I know he is all right and I'm certainly grateful to Tanlac for what it has done."

Tanlac is sold in Red Deer by Gatz-Cornett Drug & Book Co., and by the leading druggist in every town.

ANNUAL MEETING OF KNOX CHURCH

Some people imagine that annual meetings are dry and uninteresting, but those who attend church meetings do not find them so. There was a fair attendance at the annual meeting of Knox Church on Wednesday evening, and the reports from all the church organizations were splendidly prepared, and were in most respects the best and most encouraging in the history of the church. There was a growing interest in missionary work was seen in the fact that the congregation gave double the amount of the previous year in addition to the large amount given to the Forward Movement. Church members are realizing the fact that a church that is interested in missions increases its efficiency in its own local work, and this has something to do with the good work of the different organizations. There is not room to give even a digest of reports of the session, the choir, the Sabbath school, the cradle roll, the Extension class, the young people's society, the women's missionary society, the mission league, the ladies' aid, and the treasurer of the church; of every one it can be said that the reports showed that they were doing a good work, and possible by a spirit of good will and harmony in the life of the congregation.

The treasurer's statement showed a total of $765.62 had been raised for all purposes. The Board of Management recommended that the salary of the minister be increased by $300 a year, and this was adopted in spite of the urgent request of Mr. Brown that this matter be left till the salary of the missionaries could be put on a proper basis and the debt on the church wiped out. The report of the session expressed the hope that during the present year a much larger number would be led into full communion with the church on profession of their faith in Christ and that more personal activity among the men of the church would be developed. All reports reflected dependence upon the Great King and Head of the Church in whose Name the work is carried forward, and from whom comes the inspiration to better and more enduring service. The Rev. Mr. Smith, from Baltimore, being present spoke of the work of the church in that district, and the congregation expressed great pleasure in being associated with the Baltimore people in Christian service. Messrs. W. E. Lord, J. T. Berry, and Geo. W. Johnston, were re-elected to the Board of Management, and Mr. Donald Smith was elected to fill the unexpired term of Mr. W. T. Lake. The other members of the board being Messrs. J. A. McPherson, John Malcolm, A. H. Heworth, J. B. W. N. H. Burnett, R. G. Connett, A. H. Moyes, and P. E. Graham. The Ladies Aid invited all present to the Hall of the Church, where they served refreshments that were up to the standard of the reports given and everybody went home with a feeling that the most interesting kind of meetings that one could wish to attend.

Stock-taking Sale at Brazier's

Stock-taking time is here. We must make a record of everything we have in our store. It's sure to be a big job, but we want you to help us by relieving us of some of the stock. We will pay you for your trouble by making very substantial price reductions. Here are a few. There are scores of others.

At 25c.

Ten Prints with flower decoration, at 25c
Prints, Gingham, Curtain Scrim, Centre Pieces, Towels, etc.
Matachute Cup. Williams' Shaving Powder
Writing Paper and Envelopes, Regular 35¢ value
Tale Toys, 4-cup capacity; 9-inch Mixing Bowl; Silk Middy Ties, Cover Butter Dishes with flower decoration, Bamboo Fern Pot with tin centre, 2 and 3 qt. Double Rollers, Regular $2.40 and $2.00 for 1.75c
Enamel Mixing Bowl and Pudding Dish, 2 qt. Sauce Pan, Wash Basin (tin), Nickel Table Knife, and 1st more articles.
Varnish Stain in Rosewood, Mahogany, Light Oak; enough to do three or four chairs or one big dining room table, for 25c
Enamel Paint, Pale Sea Green, Cream, Sky Blue, at 15c

Big Clean-up in Blue and White Enamelware

8 qt. Stock Pot, Regular $2.00 for 1.50c
8 qt. Berlin Sauce Pot with enamel cover, Regular $2.00 for 1.50c
12 qt. Water Pail, Regular $2.35 for 1.95c
2 and 3 qt. Double Rollers, Regular $2.40 and $2.00 for 1.75c
1/2 qt. Sauce Pan 50c
1 qt. Dipper 40c
6 qt. Stock Pot, Regular $1.50 for 1.25c
12 qt. Potato Pot, Regular $3.00 for 2.25c
6 qt. Potato Pot, Regular $2.25 for 1.75c
And a lot more. See this Window display.

Sleighs for Kiddies at Below Cost

Reg. 75¢ Sleigh for 50¢ Big Coaster, Reg. $3 for 2.40c
Reg. $1.10 Sleigh for 85¢ Big self-steering Sleigh, Reg. $3.00 for 2.25c
Reg. $2 Sleigh for 1.50c Big size at $2.25 for 1.50c

Hand Bags at A Great Bargain

25¢ per cent off all Hand Bags. Having purchased travellers' samples, this will mean the same as 50 per cent off on the regular price.

O'Cedar Mops

Small O'Cedar Mop, complete with handle 45¢
Big O'Cedar Mop, Regular $1.75 for 1.50c

Big Reductions in Aluminum, Community Silver and Chinaware

20 per cent off all our Community Ware, Adam pattern.
20 per cent off all Fancy China.
7-piece Fruit Set, Regular $2.00 for 1.60c
10 per cent off Dinner Sets and it is still going up.

Pyrex Ware at Cost

2 qt. Crook 10¢ Big Pie Plate 1.25c
3 qt. Crook 15¢ Baker with handle, oval 1.25c
4 qt. Crook 20¢ Baker, round with handle, 1.25c
Bread Pan 1.25c Custard Dishes 30¢

Electric Light Globes

Tungsten Electric Light Globes, 5 in a box, 25, 40 and 60 watts. Regular 60¢ each, per box of 5 $2.50

BRAZIER'S - ROSS ST.

City of Red Deer DOGS.

1. By-law No. 229 of the City of Red Deer, provides that every owner of a dog shall annually, on or before February 1st procure a license for such, to be attached to collar, and no dog to be permitted to run at large, without collar and tag.
2. Dogs running at large without collar and tag will be impounded and if not redeemed within three days will be sold or destroyed.
3. Any person removing collar or tag from a dog shall be liable to a fine.
4. The owner of any dog running at large that attacks any person, chases vehicles or horses or does any damage will be liable to a fine or to have the dog destroyed.
5. Any person found guilty of an infraction of this By-law shall be liable to a fine of not less than $2.00 or more than $10.00 or 30 days in jail.
6. Licenses may be procured from License Inspector Chas. Anderson or from the City Office.

Wood for Sale.

The City has a few loads of kindling wood for sale at $3.00 per load. Orders may be given to the City Office.

A T. STEPHENSON, Secretary-Treasurer.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

LOCAL NEWS

Pianos tuned—J. E. Walton.

Poultry show February 1st.

Skating this (Wednesday) afternoon from 2 to 4.30, at the rink.

The Best Furniture Co. do picture framing well and reasonable.

Boyle's orchestra at the Alexandra Club dance in the Armoures, tonight.

The Band will be at the Skating rink Friday night. Admission 25c and 15c.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Munn have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in the loss of their infant son on Monday last.

The regular monthly meeting of the W.C.T.U. will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Bannerman, Friday, January 25th, at 3.30.

The Popular Group (P.G.W.A.) will hold a concert, ten cent tea and bazaar in the Poplar Ridge school, February 4th, at 8 o'clock.

The Alexandra Club are holding another of their popular dances in the Armoures, tonight (Wednesday, January 26th). The dance of the season.

L. F. Prevo, who was tried for a serious offence at the criminal court, Monday, was found guilty and sentenced to six months. The Shearer case was going on yesterday.

A meeting of the Red Deer and District Memorial Fund Committee will be held in the city hall on Friday evening. All members and representatives of organizations are requested to be present.

Lady curlers will no doubt be interested to know that Dr. Gault and Co. are selling a handsome 12 inch top kid boot, wool lined throughout, for $3.95. This boot sold formerly for $14.00; comment is unnecessary.

Rev. Charles Hives, of Lac La Ronge, was in the city last week for a few hours visiting friends. He was up from Calgary with Mrs. Hives, visiting his mother at Penhold. He expects to leave for the north country the early part of February.

A determination to "clean up" has prompted Dr. Gault & Co. to make a further cut in their ladies' waists, and the order has gone forth that every waist in the store is to be sold at half price. This is a splendid chance to get a great bargain.

Mrs. C. C. Gamble was in Lethbridge, Thursday and Friday, as a delegate to the provincial meeting of the I.O.G.E. There were over forty delegates present from all parts of Alberta and a most enjoyable convention was the result.

With every member of the Male Voice Choir please make a special effort to be present at the regular rehearsal this evening at 8 p.m. There is plenty of interesting work being taken up the whole time, with several concerts in view. Your attendance will greatly facilitate the preparation of the new music.

The Red Deer County Loyal Orange Lodge will meet in annual session at Red Deer in the Orange hall, Third St. North, on Tuesday, February 1, at 2.30 p.m. A large turnout of delegates from the Lodges of the County is expected. Initiations in the Royal Arch Degree will be put on by L.O.L. 1525. All Orangemen cordially invited.

Under the auspices of the Red Deer Horticultural Society, a meeting will be held in the city hall tomorrow evening, Thursday, January 27th, at 8 p.m. Mr. Geo. Harcourt, B.S.A., lecturer in horticulture, College of Agriculture, Edmonton, will give a talk upon the growing of small fruits and ornamental shrubs. All citizens at all interested in small fruit are cordially invited to be present.

RED DEER TROOP BOY SCOUTS

1. Thursday evening there will be a talk on "First Aid" by Dr. McKenzie, in the club room, at 7.30.

2. Troop will meet at the Armoures on Monday evening at 7.30 for instruction.

Band Practice, 8 to 9. All members of the band must endeavor to be present at practices.

3. The Thursday evening meeting at the Armoures will be discontinued. When a talk is not arranged for these evenings, Scouts may meet at the Club Room for special instruction reading and social intercourse.

4. Patrol on duty, "Wolf." Next for duty, "Otter."

H. E. CALLENDER, S.M. Jan. 25th, 1921.

Why not have that new photo framed by the Best Furniture Co.

The Memorial and Building Fund Committee will hold a meeting in the city hall on Friday, the 26th. Keep this date open.

There will be a dance in the Community Hall on the Divide on Friday evening, the 28th of January. Ladies please bring refreshments.

Alexandra Club dance in the Armoures, tonight, Wednesday, Jan. 26. Boyle's orchestra from Edmonton. Dancing at 8 o'clock. Refreshments. Admission $1.00. Proceeds for Hospital.

THE GLENEL

The annual school meeting took place on Friday, Jan. 14th. There was a good attendance of ratepayers.

After the usual business the election to fill two vacancies was held. Mr. Ward and Mr. Mitchell being elected.

Councillor Pixley, of Hill End, was in this vicinity on road business lately.

Everyone in this district has taken a new lease of life at the rumors of the building in the spring of the Langdon-Edmonton branch of the C.P.R.

A very pleasant time was spent at the home of P. T. Edwards on Wednesday, 19th, in skating, tobogganing and dancing. 72 persons being present.

Music was furnished by the Cuddy orchestra. During intermission step dances were given by Messrs. Mitchell, Ward, W. Wakey and Lancy.

There was a song by Miss Dorothy Edwards, duet by the Misses Jessie Cuddy and Dorothy Edwards, and recitations by Mr. Edwards, and son Lionel, and Misses Bessie Walton, Marjorie Wakey and Myra Wakey.

Mr. John Wakey was master of ceremonies and acted in a very capable manner.

After a sumptuous repast, dancing was resumed until the wee small hours, when everyone went home, hoping for a return of the event.

St. Orr and son Kenneth are up from the south looking after their interests on Section 8.

MUSICAL CLUB CONCERT THURSDAY

Owing to quarantine at the home of Madame LeSautier, the evening to have been given to the Life and Works of Wagner had to be postponed but will be given in the Assembly Hall of the Central School on Thursday, January 27, at 8 o'clock. Admission for non-ticket holders: adults 25 cents, children 15 cents.

The following is the programme to be given that night:—

Part I—

Reading—Grig and His Music; Mrs. R. L. Gaetz. Piano solos—(1) The Lovely Wanderer, (2) Little Bird, (3) Berceuse; (4) Norwegian Dance, Madame LeSautier. Solo—1 Love Thee, Madame Quigg.

Part II—

Piano solos—(1) Butterfly, (2) Spring Song, (3) March of the Dwarfs; Madame LeSautier. Solo—Solange's Song; Madame Quigg. An all-Grig programme.

WEDDING BELLS

ELLIS—SHORTT

Mr. Harry P. Ellis will have the hearty congratulations of many friends on his marriage Wednesday evening at St. Luke's Church to Miss May Shortt, late of the Red Deer telephone operating staff. Rev. C. C. Collier read the service.

The wedding was a very quiet one, only the immediate families were present. The young couple will spend their honeymoon in Banff, and on their return will have apartments in the Arlington Hotel. The groom was among the native sons of Red Deer town to enlist in the war, going over in 1915 at the age of 19, and remaining through the war. The bride and groom were suitably remembered in wedding gifts, and will have the heartiest of good wishes, especially from the old timers, for their future happiness.

SHIPPING DAYS FOR HOGS

I will ship hogs for the Association on Thursday, January 26th and February 3rd.

If you have not listed your hogs for shipment, please phone me at 119 during the day or 1204 after the evening.

I have some attractive listings of dairy stock, and one registered hog; also some calves, about 1 year. If you want to buy, sell or exchange anything make use of your own organization.

L. M. GAETZ, Manager, Central Alberta Live Stock Shipping Association

WANTED TO BUY, for cash, small modern house in good location. Particulars and price to P.O. Box 2113, Red Deer.

WANTED, AT ONCE—Good cook for the Red Deer Memorial Hospital. Apply to the Lady Superintendent, Jan. 15, 11.

ONE LARGE, WELL FURNISHED ROOM, suitable for two gentlemen. Apply 55, 4th St. N., or phone 137. Red Deer, Jan. 15, 2w.

ROOM AND BOARD, suitable for two men rooming together.—127, Second Street S.W. Jan. 12.

LOST—One rising 4-year-old Clyde coll, no visible brand. Has three white feet and white face. $5.00 reward is offered anybody giving information that leads to the recovery by Roy V. Scott, Penhold.

HALL TO RENT—Waskaseo Lodge, I.O.O.F. announce that they will rent their hall, west of Imperial Bank, any night in the week except Monday night. The room is 24x46, and is well heated, lighted and suitable for concerts, dancing and other entertainments. Apply to Kennedy & Fitzsimmons, to P.O. Box 265, or phone 235. Red Deer, Jan. 12.

FOR SALE

There are for sale a number of small buildings, also a quantity of railway ties, at the plant of the Great West Lumber Co., Red Deer. Apply for particulars to M. R. Willett at the plant, or the Manager of the Royal Bank. Jan. 7, 1w.

STRAYED from the premises of the undersigned, two black Polled Angus heifers, branded 4, p upside down, and with a bar on top; also a white-faced steer with black brand. All on brand olds. One black calf, not branded. Information will be cheerfully received. R. P. Pungelly, Springvale, Red Deer P.O. Dec. 29, if.

RED DEER CREAMERY MEETING

The annual meeting of the Red Deer Butter and Cheese Manufacturing Association will be held at the office of A. H. Heyworth on Saturday, January 28th, at 2.30 p.m.

W. R. ELLENWOOD, Secretary. Red Deer, Jan. 15, 2w.

BUILDING FOR SALE

Sealed tenders will be received up to the 31st day of January 1921, by the undersigned, as solicitors for the owner, for the building situate on Block Four (4), Red Deer, known as the Great West Hotel building; tenders to be accompanied by an agreement to purchase the building and to remove the same within three months if tender is accepted. The highest or any tender not necessarily accepted. Dated at Red Deer, Alberta, this 18th day of January, A.D. 1921.

PAYNE & GRAHAM, Solicitors for the owner. Jan. 15, 2w.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES ATTENTION!

The date of the Convention has been changed to Wednesday and Thursday FEBRUARY 2nd and 3rd, 1921.

Programme: "Needs of Education in Alberta Today and the Trustees' Responsibility." A. B. Hogg, Lethbridge.

"Education from Labor's Standpoint." Alex. Ross, M.L.A., City of Alberta.

"The Rural School Problem." H. A. Malcolm, Innisfail.

"A Live Trustee's Association." Wm. Iversen, Ex-President Dan. Trustee Association.

"The Future of Our Schools." Hon. Geo. P. Smith.

JUNE PUTS THE FLAVOR IN

The bright warm sunshine of summer brews the wonderful flavor of British Columbia's perfect fruits.

QUAKER BRAND JAM

is the best ripe fruit, picked at its best and made into jam the same day. This retains the fresh natural flavor.

Dominion Canners, B.C. Limited

Head Office: Vancouver

Where is my Jam?

Look in our Window for the Best Value on Jam in Town.

GROCERIES

CONFECTIONERY

TOBACCO

CIGARETTES

D. B. ROSS

THE VETERAN STORE

Phone 222

CULTIVATE YOUR CREDIT AT THE BANK

Some day you may need credit at the Bank. If you are a stranger it may be difficult to arrange. Cultivate your future credit with a Bank Account now. It may mean much to you later on.

THE ROYAL BANK OF CANADA

Total Resources $598,000,000
Red Deer Branch J. A. HAILE, Manager

SNOW BLINDNESS

Some eyes are particularly sensitive to the glare of the sun upon snow. Such eyes should be protected with a pair of our

SNOW GLASSES

Eyesight is Precious

RELIABLE COUGH REMEDIES

CHAP LOTIONS

Throat Pastilles and Cough Candies

GARDEN COURT

Vanishing Cream Face Powder Cold Cream Talcum Powder

NYA L'S

Vanishing Cream Face Powder Cold Cream Talcum Powder Massage Cream

NONE TO COMPARE

STANDARD DRUG CO.

Nyal Quality Store

COAL

TONS OF SATISFACTION

Owing to the mild weather, we are stocked to the roof and have

TWO CARS

Drumbheller Stove Coal

on the track (unexcelled for the kitchen range). This is the best Drumbheller steam coal ever offered in Red Deer, and for immediate delivery off the car,

$8.50 per ton

Saunders Lump Coal	$12.75
Hygrade Lump Coal	$10.75
Black Diamond Coal	$ 9.75
Binant Coal	$ 9.00

Take advantage of the above week-end special in stove coal: first come, first served.

The J. MALCOLM Co.

The Office of Service Phone 62

Privacy

Privacy such as one would expect only in the home is a feature of every part of our service, while the restful atmosphere of our parlors imparts a pleasing degree of harmony. Funeral service that leaves nothing to be desired is our ideal.

WE SERVE HUMANITY BETTER

THE JACQUES-ORME FUNERAL HOME

Funeral Directors and Embalmers
108 Third St. N.E. RED DEER, ALTA.
PHONE 61
Branch office at Rocky Mountain House and Delburne

Latest Popular Selections in Songs and Dance Music

Tripple! Old-fashioned Garden Japanese Sandman Out Where the West Begins Avalon? Love Will Find a Way A Bachelor's Day A Paradise for Two Tumble Down Shack in Athlone My Little Bimbo Sweet and Low Our Yesterdays That Naughty Waltz I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles My Tale of Golden Dreams Bells of St. Mary's Duna Love Nest La Veolia When You Look in the Heart of a Rose I'd Build a World in the Heart of a Rose After You Get What You Want After You Don't Want It

Feather Your Nest Whispering Old Pal, Why Don't You Answer Me? Sweet Kentucky Sue Let the Rest of the World Go By Hiawatha's Melody of Love I Never Knew I Could Love Anybody, etc Oh, By Jingo So Long Oo-Long I Want to Go to the Land, etc. O What a Pal Was Mary Hold Me Dardanelia I'm in Heaven When I'm in My Mother's Arms Roses of Picardy Dear Old Pal of Mine Beautiful Ohio The Yamp I Like To Do It Missouri Waltz

PRICES 40c to 60c COPY
Star Dance Folio for 1921—$1.00 post paid
Fest Dance Folio for 1921—$1.00 post paid
His Master's Voice Records of the above and hundreds of other popular selections, $1.00 each, double side. Ask for a catalogue.
Mail orders for records and sheet music filled same day as received.
SOLE AGENTS FOR VICTROLAS & BRUNSWICK PHONOGRAPHS

Gaetz-Cornett Drug & Book Co.
THE Rexall STORE

GOOD COAL GOOD SERVICE

Phone 81

Good Dry Split Wood $3.00 per load

WE SELL GALT COAL

The Smith Lumber Co., Ltd.
PHONE 81

THE ingredients entering into our soda biscuits are the purest and best obtainable, regardless of cost. This accounts for the rich, tasty goodness and pleasing flavor of—

McCORMICK'S

Jersey Cream SODA BISCUITS

H. G. Stone & Sons

FUNERAL DIRECTORS and EMBALMERS
AMBULANCE

PHONES:
Office 172
H. G. Stone's Res. 173
C. H. Stone 174
R. C. Stone 219

Parlors—130 Gaetz Avenue South
RED DEER, ALTA.

Are Your Eyes Overworked?

Have you not, at one time or another—had cause to doubt the perfect safety of your eyes—aching and smarting, blurring of the print? These are some of the signs of eyestrain.

Better Have it attended to now!

H. H. HUMBER

Jeweler and Optometrist RED DEER

To the Ratepayers of M.D. Golden West NO. 371

In the new Dominion Government Regulations governing the use of Firearms in Canada, it is provided that no citizens shall have in their possession a rifle, a shotgun, or a revolver, without a permit. Persons who have in their possession a shotgun acquired prior to October 15th, 1920, do not require permits for these weapons.

Permits may be obtained from the Chief of Police, Red Deer, or the A.P.P., Red Deer.

Applications for permits must be made at once to the above, stating registered number, make and calibre of firearm, and name and residence of owner.

ARTHER ROGERS,
Reeve M.D. Golden West, No. 371

Where is my Jam?

Look in our Window for the Best Value on Jam in Town.

GROCERIES
CONFECTIONERY
TOBACCO
CIGARETTES

D. B. ROSS
THE VETERAN STORE
Phone 222